There were large realizing sales in the Grangers, and a disposition to transfer interest from the high-priced to low-priced issues was noticed, stocks like Lake Erie, General Electric, Minneapolis and St. Louis, Ontario and Western and Union Pacific receiving the benefit of this operation. The coalers were strong features on good buying. This group of stocks has not enjoyed the attention which many other issues have received, and it is believed that with the settlement of all labor troubles in the strike district and the approach of colder weather an active ceived, and it is believed that with the settlement of all labor troubles in the strike district and the approach of colder weather an active built movement will be started in the anthracite properties. It was reported to-day that coal prices would be advanced on October I. Professional operators were active in to-day's market, and a report that several large interests were taking profits helped bear traders in their efforts to depress certain issues, as in the Granger shares, Sugar Refining and some of the Southern railroad issues. The Vanderbilt stocks were again strong; also the Eric issues, Northern Pacific proferred and Brooklyn Rapid Transit. The market displayed great variety, and was broad and active, with total sales of 659.310 shares, against 640.117 yesterday. Regarding the Granger shares, particularly Rock Island and Burlington, bull operators, it is said, hope to bring about a good-sized advance next week, when it is expected that Rock Island will be put on a 4 per cent basis, and that Burlington's August earnings will be published. Various estimates have been made about the last-named company's August returns, but it was intimated to-day in certain quarters that they will run far ahead of predictions so far made. The gas shares were comparatively quiet to-day. Ontivity. Pennsylvania Railroad stock was universally active.

The statement of foreign commerce for August is another remarkable exhibition of this country's growing trade, and furnishes further reason for believing that gold imports from Europe in settlement of trade halance can be made whenever local bankers see the necessity of increasing the supply of money at this centre. The Bank of England made no change in its discount rute to-day, and it would appear that that institution did not believe that gold exports would be made immediately, and that it had sufficient control of the situation to prevent an author of the move mental to this country. It is not expected that gold imports will be made from London at once, as the beginning of the
